BASEBALL & SOFTBALL CLUB

UPDATED / 8 . 1 . 1 8

Player, Parent, and Coach Handbook

Name:

The name of the organization shall be Extreme Baseball & Softball Club, a non-profit organization, chartered within Premier Girls Fastpitch, American Softball Association, Perfect Game, and USSSA Association, and/or other national softball and baseball associations. The names of Extreme and Extreme Elite shall be used to describe the various teams aged 6U-18U.

Extreme Chartered Description:

The Extreme Baseball & Softball Club is a chartered baseball and softball organization for males and females near ages 6 through 18 years. The Extreme Baseball & Softball Club is one organization with multiple teams. The Extreme Baseball & Softball Club promotes softball and baseball development, sportsmanship, and recreational activities through participation on teams based upon PGF, ASA, or USSSA age limits and birth date requirements. The Extreme Baseball & Softball Club will not discriminate or deny participation and membership because of race, religious preference, color, and nationality or ethnic heritage. The following Charter and Bylaws have been established so that the Extreme Baseball & Softball Club may function for the benefit of all members.

Goals of Our Club (used to measure our success):

1. To promote amateur fastpitch softball for all girls who want to play at a competitive level.
2. To promote amateur baseball for all boys who want to play at a competitive level.
3. To provide a softball and baseball Organization (Extreme Baseball & Softball Club) with true sportsmanship.
4. To provide training at a level each athlete and coach has not yet achieved, for each player and coach in the proper skills of playing softball and baseball.
5. To provide a program to enable the players to play at the highest, appropriate competitive level.
6. To provide leagues that support the competitive goals of softball players and baseball players in the Metro-East.
7. To define, implement, execute, and track the “right way” to run a sports club.
8. To run a club that supports the improvement of fundamentals, competition, and preparation the “right way” for multiple levels (rec to select, select to better select, select to elite, and softball & baseball).
9. To provide a seamless transition in to the next phase of an athlete’s life (whether that’s college, work, college athletics, high school, etc.). Use athletics as the ground to prepare.
10. To leave a legacy on the game. At a time when we all know “what’s wrong” with the game, to be the club that finds solutions, fixes it, and does “what’s right” long-term.
11. To develop a club that supports the missions and visions of its alliances and other organizations that do it the “right way.”
12. To develop and model the 3-Dimensional model to running a program.

Program Overview:

Each team of the Extreme Baseball & Softball Club is independently managed from the others by different coaching staffs, which are appointed or approved by the Executive Board. Each team will have annual tryouts with open competition for roster positions. Each team is encouraged to open its roster to any girl or boy regardless of the school or city from which she or he is from. It is to be a regional area travel team, which promotes softball and baseball and the development of its players to be the best, as well as promoting Collinsville area players to stay within Collinsville instead of branching out to other programs.

Fall Overview

- The Fall season is extra development time in the Extreme program.
- During the Fall season, practices and games may be offered.
- The Fall season takes the back seat to school ball and other in-season athletics.
- Given the short outdoor season in Illinois and Missouri, we recommend that players participate to their fullest capability in Fall ball so as to take advantage of the outdoor weather.
- The Fall season has a different scope for high-school aged athletes. It is an important showcase and exposure part of the year. Many college coaches do their majority of recruiting during the Fall season.
- During the Fall season, the Extreme Elite will participate in exposure tournaments and college level games.

Winter Overview

- Weekly team indoor practice sessions taught by team coaches and Network coaches. These sessions cover pitching skills, catching skills, defensive skills, baserunning skills, bunting skills, hitting skills, and athlete performance training sessions covering core strength, speed, quickness and agility.
- Classroom sessions geared towards the situational and mental part of the game.
- Clinics and seminars that cover important topics including on the field skills (sliding, pickoffs, middle infield, etc.) and off the field topics (sports nutrition, mental skills, body health, recruiting, etc.)

Spring/Summer Overview

- Weekly team practice sessions with team coaches
- Tournaments
- League Games and/or Friendly Doubleheaders

Approximate Spring/Summer Game Schedule:

Age Group	Avg. No. of Games*	Avg. Length of Spring/Summer Game Season
Teams under High School Aged	40-60	Mar 1 – Aug 1
Teams with High School Aged	40-50	June 1 – Aug 1

* Depends on specific team goals and the cooperation of local weather.

Coaching Overview

- Teams are coached by a combination of parent coaches and/or neutral coaches that are selected to meet our skill development and/or college development program goals.
- All coaches have been trained in the Extreme Way and continue to receive Coach Development throughout all of their years of coaching.
- All coaches are responsible for the team's conduct and actions prior to, during, and after the practices, games, and every team event.
- All coaches should be knowledgeable in the game of softball/baseball, PGF/ASA/USSSA/Other Affiliation rule changes, and the Extreme Baseball & Softball Handbook.
- All coaches should attend all eClub meetings.
- All coaches attend softball and baseball clinics whenever possible.
- All coaches are required to abide by the Coaches Code of Conduct.

College Softball/Baseball Recruiting Process:

Most of our high school age players want to play softball/baseball in college. Currently, there is an “information gap” in the youth softball/baseball community about how to pursue college opportunities. Our goal is to close this information gap for our players and parents. The simple fact is that your college softball/baseball opportunities will largely be determined by three things that you have control over:

- 1) Physical softball/baseball skills and athleticism
- 2) Academic performance in high school
- 3) Mental make-up, personal characteristics, and attitude

The recruiting process is built on the following core principles:

- Academics and a college degree are the number one priority in this process. Your playing career will eventually end. A college degree is something you will always have.
- The most important challenge is finding the “right fit” with a college softball/baseball program. The “right fit” includes:
 - Academic skills and goals
 - Matching up your softball/baseball skills and athletic ability with a program
 - Personal interests
 - Social and geographic interests
- It is essential that the student-athlete take the lead of their recruiting process. It takes initiative, desire and extra work (almost like completing another class in school). This is a process that you need to take ownership of, it is not something that someone else can do for you.

There are seven fundamental elements in the recruiting process:

1. Academics – good grades and good test scores open up lots of doors in college softball/baseball.
2. Physical development – you must develop the softball/baseball skills and athleticism to compete in advanced softball/baseball. Physical tools are the starting point of this process.
3. Mental development – you must continue to build and develop the personal characteristics, maturity and mental skills required to succeed in advanced softball/baseball.
4. Research – what colleges are potentially the “right fit” and why.
5. Communication – college coaches want to focus their time on players that express a strong interest in their program. They want you to communicate with them.
6. Exposure – coaches/scouts need to see you play. This requires a combination of high competition tournaments, showcases, and college camps.
7. Marketing – players need an active marketing program that includes letters, player profiles, videos, etc...

The Extreme Elite program provides support and training in this process for players and parents. The Extreme program has a very strong network of relationships throughout college baseball and softball. This is built on the decades of college baseball and softball coaching and playing experience in our lead coaches and directors, combined with direct experience in working college camps, running showcase events, and interacting with hundreds of college coaches on an annual basis. We utilize a credible, professional approach to building relationships with every college program in the country.

Code of Conduct:

A good team must have standards and expectations so that all involved know what is expected of them to maintain a successful organization.

❖ Players

➤ Responsibilities and Sportsmanship:

- No Alcohol, Drugs, or Tobacco Products:
 - * Players found to be in possession of, under the influence of, or connected to alcohol, drugs or tobacco products will be subject to disciplinary sanctions, which may include immediate dismissal from the team.
- Playing Time:

 - * At the 6U-14U level, it’s our hope that all athletes will develop in multiple positions and in similar on-the-field situations. At the 14U-18U level, athletes will play specific to their roles, skill level, and specific to the teams’ needs.
- Communication:
 - * Players are encouraged to be the first line of communication with the coaches or with a board member in the program.

- * Players may only talk with a coach about playing time or positions outside of game or practice time. Set up a meeting if needed. Honor the 24-hour rule.

- * Disciplinary sanctions for missing a team event will include
 - ◆ Sitting out a game
 - ◆ Suspension from the team
 - ◆ Dismissal from the team
- * Players with excessive unexcused absences could be asked to leave the team. Excessiveness is determined at the discretion of the Coach.
- * Typical excused absences are: sickness, a death, a family member's school graduation, a required school function or event or a school sporting event (the Coach still MUST be notified).
- * Typical unexcused absences are: birthday parties, concerts, playing in other non-school sporting events or games (even if you call the Coach – missing a team event for a reason like one of these will count as unexcused). Also, if an absence is excused but you do not notify the Coach, it becomes unexcused.
- * Those that are multi-sport athletes should make all efforts to get your offseason training in by attending other teams' practices should they fit your other sport's schedule.
- * All efforts should be made to take vacations before or after the season. In season vacations can be counted as an unexcused absence unless the Coach is notified in advance and is agreed upon in advance by the Coach.

- * General information needed and inquiries can come through email.
- * But any needed discussion concerning child should be face to face at a pre-scheduled meeting per the above guidelines (NOT through email or text)
- * Coaching suggestions, complaints, and critiques should not be made through email or text.
- * There should be no discussion on other players, teams, or organizations on Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, or other online communities.
- * There should be no negativity posted on Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, or other online communities.

➤ Game Approach

- * No Coaching – Do not try to instruct the players in any way during a game (you will be asked to leave). If you have a question or a comment, set up a meeting with the coach.
- * No Umpiring – Guardians are asked to leave any communication with the umpires to the coaches. No arguing or challenging the umpires, no matter how much you may disagree with the call that is made.
- * No Heckling – Always support other teams with good sportsmanship after wins or losses. We pride ourselves in being respectful winners and losers.
- * No Negativity - While in attendance at practices and games, guardians must never criticize any of the players negatively or in a negative tone of voice. Guardians are asked to promote sportsmanship by supporting the players with positive encouragement, never negative criticism. - The entire coaching staff should review the practice plan at least 30 minutes prior to each practice. This can happen through email, over the phone, or during a pre-practice coaches' meeting.

- If you have issues with an umpire or with a ruling, discuss it with the umpire in a professional manner.

Extreme Scholar Athlete Program:

The Extreme Scholar Athlete Program recognizes our student-athletes for their commitment inside of the classroom.

In the Extreme organization, we expect our student-athletes to be just that, a STUDENT first and an ATHLETE second. We will all continue to work hard to provide a positive softball/baseball experience, but it is important to remember that our athletes' success in life first starts in the classroom!

The Extreme Scholar Athlete Program has two parts:

1. Each of our student-athletes that meet the criteria outlined below will receive an award once per year to recognize their hard work and achievement in the classroom. Each of our Extreme Scholar Athletes will be honored with a gift each year in July.
2. The team in our Extreme organization that has the most student-athletes in the Extreme Scholar Athlete program will be awarded the Annual Extreme Academic Team Award. This team award will be placed on the trophy shelves in the Extreme Building to be honored forever.

Eligibility Requirements:

Each of our student-athletes that meet the following requirements for the entire year will receive an award recognizing their success in the classroom. The award will be based on the final grades, if given, or the combination of all quarter/semester grades. To qualify for this award, the student-athlete must achieve a 3.50+ GPA.

High School Student Athletes:

Each of our high school student-athletes that achieve a 3.50+ GPA for the year will be eligible for the award. Weighted GPAs will be used when given. If a student is not taking honors/advanced placement classes, the nonweighted GPA will be used. There will be no rounding of GPAs (so, a 3.495 GPA is not 3.5 and is therefore not eligible).

Middle School Student Athletes:

If a middle school provides GPAs, the same criteria will be used for our middle school student-athletes as outlined above for our high school student-athletes.

If a middle school does not provide GPAs, the following scores should be used to calculate GPAs:

- A+, A, A- = 4.0 points
- B+, B, B- = 3.0 points
- C+, C, C- = 2.0 points
- D+, D, D- = 1.0 point
- F = 0.0 point

The calculated GPA is the sum of points for each letter grade given divided by the number of classes taken. Again, no rounding should occur in the calculation of the GPA. The GPA should be recorded with two digits following the decimal point (i.e., 3.78, 3.61, 3.94, etc.) It will be the responsibility of the player, their parent or their coach or team representative to calculate the semester GPA before submitting a report card for eligibility consideration. Submissions must include a GPA calculation. Those turned in without a GPA won't be considered for eligibility. The GPA will not be calculated by the Scholar Athlete Director.

Grade School Student Athletes:

If a grade school provides grades on their report card, the calculated GPA will be used, based on the same criteria as our middle school student-athletes, as outlined above. If the grade school provides 2 or more marks (i.e. E/M/U, +/-), to be eligible a student-athlete may have 1 middle mark but all other marks must be the highest mark available (i.e. E, +). If a grade school provides 2 tier marks (i.e. S/U, +/-) only the highest mark given for the school district at the grade school level will be accepted.

Report Card Submittal:

A complete report card must be submitted for eligibility. Only providing a portion of a student's report card will disqualify the student-athlete from eligibility. There will not be a second chance for submittal given.

In June, a website will be available for parents to upload a copy of their student-athlete's report card for submission. Only those with a 3.50+ GPA or grade school student athlete as outlined above should be submitted for eligibility.
